Preface

Charges for processing payment network (Visa®, Mastercard®, Discover®, and American Express®) credit card and non-PIN debit card transactions — including interchange rates, per-item fees, and other fees — are billed to you by Wells Fargo. The total cost varies, and is subject to change, based upon a series of interchange programs or program pricing (for American Express transactions) that may apply to the transaction depending on a number of factors. Those factors include, but are not limited to, the type of card presented, specific information contained in the transaction, how and when the transaction is processed, and your industry.

As a result, a portion of the rate that Wells Fargo charges will depend on the type of transaction and the program under which the transaction is processed. In order to qualify for any specific program, you must satisfy certain qualification criteria established by the payment networks. This Visa, Mastercard, Discover, and American Express Payment Network Qualification Matrix identifies the primary qualification criteria for the various programs. In reviewing the Visa, Mastercard, Discover, and American Express Payment Network Qualification Matrix, please note the following:

- The Payment Network Qualification Matrix is only a summary of the rates, qualification criteria, and downgrade reasons established by Visa, Mastercard, Discover, and American Express for each program. It is not all inclusive, and it applies to merchants processing in the U.S.
- For a complete list, call the customer service phone number listed on your merchant account statement. While Wells Fargo makes best efforts to provide summary primary qualification criteria, Wells Fargo does not warrant the accuracy of the information in this matrix. In the event of any ambiguity or conflict, the program requirements established by the payment networks will determine in which program your transactions qualify.
- Some programs require that you use additional services such as Address Verification Service (AVS). Some programs also require that you transmit detailed transaction data such as order numbers or hotel folio numbers. Other programs require that you transmit certain indicators reflecting the nature of your transactions (such as an “E-Commerce indicator” for internet transactions).
- Programs may also be restricted to merchants in certain Merchant Category Codes (“MCC”) such as Supermarkets or Automated Fuel Dispensers (AFD).
- In some cases, transactions may be processed within a more costly program solely as a result of the type of card that is presented. For example, a Visa Signature card, among others, will generally qualify within a higher cost program.
- The information in the Payment Network Qualification Matrix should not be used to develop software or other interfaces for transmitting transactions because the technical aspects of these requirements may be much more detailed than the summary presented. If you use terminals, software, services, or equipment provided or configured by any third party, be aware that failure by these systems to correctly and accurately transmit information in the required formats may result in your transactions not qualifying within the most favorable programs.
- The Primary Qualification Criteria listed for each interchange program or program pricing on the Payment Network Qualification Matrix is accurate at the time of release. However, the payment networks may, at their discretion add, remove, or change qualification criteria or programs at will.
- On June 29, 2011, the Federal Reserve Board (FRB) released the final regulations implementing Section 1075 (the Debit Interchange Amendment) of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform Act. Within the Act, the FRB was directed to establish regulations on Debit Interchange Rates. As a result, effective October 1, 2011, Debit Interchange was divided into two categories: Non-Regulated (financial institutions with assets less than $10 billion, government-issued benefit cards, and general-use reloadable prepaid cards) and Regulated (financial institutions with assets greater than or equal to $10 billion).
- The Discover section applies only to customers where Wells Fargo is responsible for the authorization, processing, and settlement of Discover Cards (including Diners Club International, Japanese Credit Bureau, China Union Pay and Korean BC Card). It does not apply to customers that have a direct relationship with Discover, where Wells Fargo is responsible for only authorization and/or capture of Discover Cards, and Discover is responsible for processing and settlement.
- The American Express OptBlue section applies only to customers where Wells Fargo is responsible for the authorization, processing, and settlement of American Express Cards. It does not apply to customers that have a direct relationship with American Express, where Wells Fargo is responsible for only authorization and/or capture of American Express Cards, and American Express is responsible for processing and settlement.

1. The numeric bullet point in the “Primary qualification criteria” column corresponds to the numeric bullet point in the “Next interchange program logic” column within the same row. This column lists the next possible Interchange program when the qualifying criteria is not met. For example, bullet point 1 under the PSL Retail “Primary qualification criteria” column is Entry Mode – Magnetic stripe, contactless, or chip data read. If a transaction is not magnetic stripe, contactless, or chip data read and it is key-entered, then the next downgrade interchange program would be PSL/Key-Entry, PSL/Card Not Present, or PSL/E-Commerce when looking at the corresponding numeric bullet point in the "Next interchange program logic" column.
2. Valid electronic authorization is obtained through a terminal or software. For Card Present transactions track data, including CVV is required. When an electronic authorization is obtained, all required authorization data and qualifying criteria must be present at settlement, Network Reference Identification (NRID), transaction ID, authorization date, etc. Authorization and settlement MCC must match with the exception of Travel Agencies (MCC 4722) or Airlines (MCC 4511).
3. Equipment must be programmed to use the Address Verification Service (AVS). AVS not required for Recurring or Mobile Commerce.
4. Discover International interchange programs include the Discover International Processing Fee of 0.50%.

American Express OptBlue footnotes

1. The numeric bullet point in the “Primary qualification criteria” column corresponds to the numeric bullet point in the “Next program pricing logic” column within the same row. This column lists the next possible program pricing when the qualifying criteria is not met. For example, bullet point 1 under the Business-to-Business / Wholesale “Primary qualification criteria” column is Entry Mode – Magnetic stripe, contactless, chip data read, or key-entered. If a transaction is not magnetic stripe, contactless, chip data read, or key-entered, then the next downgrade program pricing would be N/A when looking at the corresponding numeric bullet point in the “Next program pricing logic” column.
2. American Express Non-Swipe programs include the American Express Non-Swipe Transaction Fee (0.30%) with the exception of MCCs eligible for the following American Express OptBlue programs: Charity, Emerging Markets, Insurance, Residential Rent, and Utilities.
3. American Express Non-US programs include the American Express Inbound Fee of 1.00%.
4. American Express requires merchants to authorize and submit field level data on all American Express transactions. Failure to meet these requirements may result in the American Express Technical Specification Non-Compliance Fee of 0.75%.
